

There are two different kinds of water use, direct and virtual. Direct water usage is what comes right out of our faucets to drink, and clean with. Virtual water use is what is used to produce the things that we use, and recycle. Check out the link below to estimate your total water use!

www.watercalculator.org