Any revision thereto shall be submitted in writing to the Client for review and approval by the Client Representative. If FCS GROUP’s services are temporarily suspended by the Client in the interest of the Project and with written notice to FCS GROUP, and the suspensions last longer than 90 consecutive days, FCS GROUP shall be compensated for any additional labor and direct expenses incurred due to the interruption and resumption of services.

EXHIBIT A: SCOPE OF WORK AND TASK PLAN

Task 1 – Establish Cost Allocation Methodology and Coordinate Data Collection:

This task encompasses the steps necessary to collect the information needed for the indirect cost allocation. FCS GROUP will assist the City in establishing the methodology and identifying appropriate allocation factors. The City will be responsible for collecting all cost and allocation factor data needed to update the allocation. Specific consultant subtasks are listed below:

1.A. Facilitate Project Kick-Off Meeting: Consultants will conduct a project kick-off meeting with City staff who will serve as the primary contacts with FCS GROUP in model development and data analysis. The agenda of this meeting will include the coordination of data collection by City staff, a discussion of project goals and parameters, formulation of the project schedule, and discussion of other coordination issues.

1.B. Identify Indirect Services and Direct Service Departments: Using the City’s current indirect cost allocation as a starting point, FCS GROUP will work with City staff to identify the citywide indirect (i.e. overhead) services and those direct service (i.e. operating) departments which benefit from them.

1.C. Update Costs for Allocation: FCS GROUP will support City staff as they identify and calculate the costs for each of the citywide indirect services. These costs will then be reviewed by FCS GROUP and any costs not appropriate for allocation identified for removal.

1.D. Identify and Compile Allocation Factors: FCS GROUP will work with City staff to identify data sets and workload measures to serve as allocation factors for indirect costs. City staff will then be responsible for compiling this information, with the support of FCS GROUP. Examples of common allocation factors include number of full-time equivalent employees; operating budgets; reported labor time; workload factors such as number of invoices processed and number of workstations; and square footage of building space used. It is recommended that allocation factors be obtained from existing and available data sources maintained by the City. (In order to assist the City in creating a cost allocation that is defensible and sustainable in future budget cycles, it is important to develop allocation methodologies that are relatively simple to update using available data sets that are consistently tracked by current City processes.)

Task 2 – Set Up and Implement Model /Calculate Indirect Cost Allocation: This task encompasses the work necessary to construct an allocation model reflective of the City’s organization, cost structure, and allocation factors identified in Task 1. This model will then be used to calculate the City’s indirect cost allocation. To keep the cost of the project low, this task relies on the City staff to use the model and to collect and enter the City data into the model rather than FCS GROUP. Specific tasks FCS GROUP will perform are listed below:

2.A. Update Allocation Model and Deliver it to the City: FCS GROUP will provide a Microsoft Excel-based allocation model for the City. Major elements of the model include data entry for allocation factors, data entry and modification of costs, allocation of costs to indirect cost pools, selection of effective allocation factors, primary and secondary cost allocation steps, and relevant summaries. The model is constructed with extra fields to accommodate future changes in the organization or cost reporting. The model is also “dynamic,” in that changes to data entry fields will cause calculations to update without manual reformulation.

2.B. Train City Staff to Use Allocation Model: In order to facilitate the use of the model by City staff, FCS GROUP will provide initial model training as well as support to City staff as they work with the model to calculate the indirect cost allocation.
2.B. Support City Staff with Cost Allocation Steps: Based on the cost pools and selected allocation factors from Task 1, FCS GROUP will support City staff as they input cost and allocation factor data into the model to complete the primary and secondary allocation steps that would fully distribute Citywide and departmental overhead to direct, public service departments.

2.C. Validate Allocations with City Staff: FCS GROUP will review the allocation model and preliminary outputs with City staff. Based on this feedback, the City will be responsible for revising costs and allocation factors as appropriate.

Deliverables: As a result of the above work plan, the City will receive the following products:

- An electronic copy of the Indirect Cost Allocation (model) on compact disc, built in the Microsoft Excel platform.

In addition to the above hard products, FCS GROUP consultants will participate in the following onsite meetings with City staff and leaders:

- One project kick-off meeting with staff followed by model training.
